

CARDINAL SARTO PATRIARCH OF VENICE IS ELECTED POPE

New Pontiff Has Chosen the Name of Pius X--Election Was Announced at 7.40 This Morning and New Pope Appears Soon After.

Generally Believed Sarto's Election Election Presages Peace Between State and Church--Election Hailed With Enthusiasm.

Rome, Aug. 4.—Cardinal Joseph Sarto, patriarch of Venice, has been elected Pope. The new pontiff has chosen the name of Pius X.

The crowd of people around St. Peter's Square this morning watching the stonewall was the largest gathered there since the conclave began. It is estimated that there was at least 12,000. When the officials of the government saw the enormous streams of people taking their way toward St. Peter's it was decided to increase the number of troops in order to suppress promptly any disorders such as whistling or catcalls should this morning's ballot be without result.

Cardinal Macchi, secretary of the apostolic brief, appeared on the outside balcony of the Vatican at 7.40 o'clock this morning and announced to the assembled multitude that the labors of the conclave had ended in the selection of Cardinal Sarto as the next Pope. Five minutes later the new pontiff appeared on the inside balcony of the Vatican and blessed the people.

The announcement scene was wonderfully impressive. First the ceremonist appeared on the middle outside balcony, in front of St. Peter's, and hung on a long tapestry which was emblazoned with the papal arms. The crowd in the square, which at this time numbered 20,000, pressed forward. They saw the cross bearer appear, followed by four figures in the full purple robes of the conclave. Three were bareheaded. The other wore a red beret and was recognized as Sarto. At his right hand was Macchi, who read the proclamation.

When the populace got the word a tremendous shout arose. A ceremonist then beckoned the Pope to enter the church to receive the papal blessing.

His election at this moment looks like a compromise, as Cardinal Sarto had taken little part in the politics of the Vatican. Upon certain occasions he has opposed plans of Cardinal Rampolla, Leo's secretary of state. It is more than probable he will devote himself to religious affairs of the church and pay small attention to politics, except to urge conciliation among opposing influences whenever possible.

For Italy his election is fortunate. He has many well-wishers in the Roman world, where, his friends hold, he has been too little seen.

Cardinal Sarto is the man whom Pope Leo is said to have hoped he would succeed him. In speaking of Sarto to Fr. Perosi, Pope Leo said, more than a year ago, "Hold him very dear, Perosi, as in the future he will be able to do very much for you. We firmly believe he will be our successor."

Another story is told of the Abbe Perosi, whose oratorical "Lazarus" and the "Resurrection of Christ" have made such an impression on the musical world. Perosi was offered the post of director of the choir of the Sistine chapel. At that time he felt that he could serve his art better by remaining Venice, where he directed choir of St. Marks, and frankly told the Pope this. Instead of being annoyed by so young a man's refusal of the highest musical post in the gift of the church, Leo XIII said good humoredly, "Go back to Venice and St. Mark's, but you will return to Rome with your cardinal one day." This was construed as indicating the Pope's belief in Cardinal Sarto succeeding him.

The people generally believe that Sarto's election presages peace between state and church, and for this reason his election is everywhere hailed with enthusiasm.

Giuseppe Sarto was born in Riese, diocese of Treviso, June 2, 1835, and was created cardinal by Leo XIII at the consistory of June 12, 1893, receiving the title of S. Bernardo della Terme. He is also patriarch of Venice since June, 1893, and bishop of Mantua. He belongs to the ecclesiastical congregations of bishops and regulars, sacred rites, indulgences and sacred relics.

Cardinal Sarto enjoys great popularity in his diocese, and is honored by all for his purity, for the strict uprightness of his life, and for liberal ideas. He is a modest and agreeable man, highly cultivated, very kindhearted, still strong and robust in spite of his 68 years. He has never taken great part in the political and public life of the church, but divided his time between study and good works.

Although most faithful to the holy see, he was presented to the king and queen of Italy in Venice. He may be considered among the more liberal members of the Italian episcopate and sacred college. He is rather timid in expressing an opinion. When King Umberto went to Venice to meet the Emperor of Germany, Cardinal Sarto announced his intention of making a state visit to the king. A hint was sent him from the Vatican that his course might not be a wise one, and that he had best be absent from Venice at the time of the king's visit. The decision was left, however, with Sarto, who carried out his original plan, made his state visit to the king, and, it is said, mentioned the fact that the Vatican had advised against it. Cardinal Herrera of Spain, who was reported dying yesterday, passed a very good night but his condition continues very grave.

Judged by His Voice.

One day Sir Algernon West, a well known member of parliament from London, was observed by one of the doorkeepers talking to a gentleman who had a rasping, raucous voice and a demonstrative, excited manner. While the conversation was in progress Sir Algernon received the card of another member of parliament and an intimation that its owner wished to see him. "Sorry, I'm engaged," was the answer. Next moment up came another card from a well known peer. Again an apology was returned. In another minute the doorkeeper came carrying a huge card and saying that the lord mayor and sheriffs of London wished very urgently to see Sir Algernon. The latter excused himself from the gentleman with whom he was conversing. This was too important to resist. "There ain't nobody here," whispered the doorkeeper when he got the member outside, "only I was afraid a madman had been shown in to you by mistake, and I wanted to warn you."

TO MARK OLD MILITARY ROAD.

Orleans County Historical Society Will Place a Tablet.

Westfield, Aug. 3.—The Orleans County Historical Society on Aug. 21 will place a tablet, bearing an appropriate inscription, at Hazen's Notch, to mark the terminus of the Old Military Road begun in 1780, under Gen. Bailey at Newbury, and in 1779 worked to this point by Gen. Hazen. The real or ostensible purpose of the road was to have a military road across the state of Vermont to Lake Champlain in order to cut off anti-rebel invasions from Canada. At that time there were practically no settlements in Vermont, except in the northern part and along Lake Champlain on the west. This road was not completed because danger of invasion passed, but a few years later was of great value and extensively used by early settlers. Hon. F. W. Baldwin of Boston will deliver the principal address at the dedication.

SPLENDID EXHIBITION

Shamrock III Won With Luck Against Her.

DEFEATED THE OLD BOAT

Led by a Mile at the End of a 30 Mile Windward and Leeward Race.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Aug. 3.—With all the luck against her, Shamrock III today again proved herself a splendid racer in light winds by beating her pacer Shamrock I, 9 minutes and 37 seconds in a 30-mile windward and leeward race off Sandy Hook. The new boat paced higher and sailed faster than Shamrock I throughout the race and in the opinion of her friends, gave a wonderful exhibition. Shamrock I was a mile astern at the finish.

Beating out to the mark she gained a big lead only to lose a portion of it by a shift of wind which temporarily enabled the old boat to outpace her.

Though Shamrock I had the better of a freshening breeze in the run to the finish line, the challenger more than trebled the distance of her lead over Shamrock I, but the yachts were sailing so much faster at the finish than at the turn that the challenger's gain in time was much less than in distance. The wind was not better than five knots when the boats crossed the starting line.

The cup hunter, by outpointing the other, worked up from a position on the old boat's bows until an hour after the start she was nearly a mile ahead though not to windward. The new boat seemed to be eight minutes ahead. They passed within three miles of Long Branch and Elberon in that order. Off West End Shamrock III made a short tack off shore and then fetched to a point off Ocean Grove. Shamrock I carrying a more favorable slant, and thereby gaining materially, was not forced to tack until off Ocean Grove and then both boats headed for the mark with the challenger leading. Shamrock I, from a windward position fetched the turn but Captain Wriggs had to make two short tacks.

Both boats broke out spinners and balloons jib top sails for the run back to the finish line. All the way home the challenger ran like a witch in a freshening breeze. Rarely before had she given such a splendid exhibition of superiority in running before the wind.

EXCITING BALL GAME.

One Version of the Game Played at Forester's Picnic Saturday.

A ball game between nine at the Forester's picnic Saturday, captained by M. Tearney and Dan Murphy, was won by Captain Murphy's nine by a score of 7 to 10. The game was one of the best that has been played this season and Captain Tearney said he has not seen the like since he left "over home." The umpires were F. A. Duffy and A. H. Burke, and several times they came near taking their scalps. The features of the game were a home run made by M. J. Nelson on a foul ball, and a grand catch made by Alderman Burke on third base, with his hat.

After two innings there was trouble. Captain Tearney's men moved the bases as they said they could not see them so far away. Thos. Barry, who was present with his yard stick laid out the diamond and the game was resumed. Deputy Sheriff Henry Frenier showed his nerve, when he tried to steal third base, but was put out and sent to the bench protesting. Captain Tearney said it was a put up job and Frenier sold the game. The rooting of the "over homers" was above the average as it generally takes more than a ball game to get them awake.

The batteries were: Moore and Gravelin, M. Tearney and M. Keefe. Only one thing marred the occasion. When A. Burke was about to go home his horse was missing and after looking some time for it Deputy Frenier was called on armed with a search warrant found the horse about a mile from the grounds, hitched to a tree.

NO ACTION ON FRANCHISE

Telephone Matter Put Over Till Tonight.

WILL NOT REDUCE RENT

Council Refuses to Accede to Request of W. W. Mapoint for Reduction of Rent.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council last evening was a long-drawn out affair, it being in session until 11 o'clock. The special matters for consideration were the granting of a franchise to the Orange County Telephone Co., and considering the request of W. W. Mapoint for a reduction of one-sixth in the opera house rent. In the opera house matter the council voted not to accede to the request of Mr. Mapoint.

After listening to the remarks for and against granting the franchise to the Telephone company and transacting the other business before the board, the council went into executive session to consider granting the franchise. After a hour's discussion the council came out of executive session, adopted an amendment to the franchise as previously read which provides that the Orange County company shall put its wires under ground where directed by the council. This amendment was referred to the city attorney for a legal opinion and the council adjourned to this evening, when it is expected action will be taken on granting the same.

The report of the street commissioners of money expended in their department for the month of July showed a total expenditure of $5290.98 divided as follows: Streets, $2051.08; sewers, $314.80; surface sewers, $58.61; permanent streets, $2555.10; sidewalks, $230.18; bridges, $50.13.

The street commissioners reported the house numbers for Orange, Hall and Clinton streets and the same was accepted. The city ordinance creating one cemetery trustee was read the first time and passed to its second reading.

The report of the building inspector for the month of July showed 21 permits granted.

A large number of city warrants were read and ordered paid.

The resolution granting a franchise to the Orange County Telephone Co. was taken from the table and remarks were made favoring the granting the franchise by A. P. Abbott, who said he was satisfied with the present service of the New England Telephone company but felt the city also needed the service of the Orange County Co. and hoped the franchise would be granted.

F. D. Ladd said he thought the city needed the line, even if there was only a central office in Barre.

Fred King, A. A. Smith, W. F. Bradford, E. A. Brown, Dr. Goodrich, O. J. Dodge, E. J. Sowden and E. M. Lyon favored granting the franchise to the Orange County Co.

M. W. Chamberlain of Washington said the Orange County Company had nearly 70 'phones in Washington where the New England company had only three. These people wanted communication with Barre city. He said the company would be ready to bury its wires when the other companies were ordered to.

The council asked various questions of those present, seeking apparently to find some plausible excuse for shutting out the Orange County company.

The usual yearly appropriation of $300 for the French Barre library was voted by the council.

A lunch room license was granted C. G. Mascott.

A request by C. G. Mascott to hang an electric sign was referred to the street committee with power to act.

Overseer of the Poor Thurston reported the expenses of his department as being $246.92 in July.

Chief of Police Brown reported 29 arrests in July.

W. W. Lapoint, in response to a request from Alderman Currier, stated his desire was that the city reduce its annual cost for the opera house the amount of two months' rental yearly.

The report of the secretary of the board of health shows 23 births in July.

Health Officer Jackson again called attention to the stench that comes from Downing's piggery. The matter was discussed at some length.

The chairman of the water committee was authorized to post a sign "No swimming" at the swimming hole in Gattuso brook.

The council then went into executive session to talk over the Orange County Telephone franchise and the opera house lease.
